

I am very pleased with the experience we have had with The Princeton Review throughout this process. The organization from the local office was wonderful and professional, which allowed us to remain focused on mastering the material.*

—Robert E. Dais, Director, GEAR UP Massachusetts

The Princeton Review has been not just a vendor, but also truly a partner to us at The Bronx Institute. From insightful program design and impeccable program execution to excellent diagnostic data and follow-up, The Princeton Review has proven that our selection to have them provide our college-readiness solution is more than merited.*

—Bruce A. Irushalmi, Associate Director, The Bronx Institute, Lehman College CUNY

I have had the privilege of working with The Princeton Review organization for many years. They have been an invaluable resource and support not only to me, but to the students and parents with whom I work. The Princeton Review has proven to be effective, professional and responsive; they consistently keep a pulse on the current trends within the college systems. I am confident in the decisions of, and respect the expertise of, The Princeton Review.*

—Connie Loggins, Program of Additional Curricular Experiences (PACE) Counselor, Long Beach Polytechnic High, CA

Why The Princeton Review?

It's simple. We're the experts in college readiness. For over 35 years, we've been a leader in helping students achieve their postsecondary goals. Last year, The Princeton Review helped millions of students realize their college dreams.

Our knowledge and understanding of school communities, combined with years of collaboration with school leaders, make The Princeton Review a powerful learning partner. In addition, our national presence—in more than 38 locations across the country—ensures successful implementations and strong program management.

The Path to Achieving Your Goals Starts NOW!

Contact us today:

CollegeReadiness@Review.com
(877) 204-0183

PrincetonReview.com/CollegeReadiness

Test names are the trademarks of their respective owners. The Princeton Review is not affiliated with Princeton University. ©TPR Education IP Holdings, LLC (SC201506220900A)

The Princeton
Review®

Gear Up Programs

Are Your Students Ready for College?

We believe all students deserve the opportunity to go to college. To accomplish this, students must be equipped with the specialized skills, support and resources needed to achieve their goals.

The Princeton Review has worked with hundreds of school districts like yours to combine test preparation with the personalized tutoring and coaching students need to broaden their postsecondary opportunities.

Talk to us today about solutions for college and career readiness.

Get Ready with the Experts for College

Together, let's engage students, families, teachers, counselors and school leaders.

Our programs are designed to help:

- Increase the number of students who take—and achieve a readiness score on—the SAT® and ACT®
- Build foundational skills in math and ELA
- Increase the percentage of students who earn a college-ready diploma
- Prepare students with the academic and social skills they need to be successful in college
- Engage families with admissions and financial aid information, expert advice and resources
- Support counselors and staff with rigorous and relevant professional development
- Bring our extraordinary expertise to your students

Online or on-site...our teachers or yours

We'll work with you to create the custom program that's right for your school. Our flexible options allow you to choose either online or on-site delivery, plus you have the choice of using your own teachers or The Princeton Review's instructors (we have more than 4,000 teachers in 42 states). We provide the training—you simply add the program to your existing school-day schedule.

In Your School, On Your Terms

College Readiness Program Features	Grade 6	7	8	9	10	11	12
Homework Help	Live, on-demand, one-to-one academic support for students even after the school day is over
Foundational Skills Building	Early Edge™ Math and ELA curriculum Our teachers or yours
Academically Aligned Content Review for Standardized Testing					Early Edge™ for SAT® or ACT® Our teachers or yours
Standardized Test Preparation				PSAT®, AP®, SAT® and ACT® Our teachers, yours or online courses
Advising on College Admissions & Financial Aid				College Readiness Handbooks Plus our library of more than 150 Random House books
Counselor & Staff Professional Development	Live, in-person, rigorous and relevant professional development to help your school drive a college-going culture
Family Engagement Seminars & Resources	Extensive resources and information to support families from all backgrounds, including first-generation college students
Social & Emotional Skill Building			Up Next: Transition to high school				Up Next: Transition to college